PREFACE

The material included in this Directory is the accumulation of decades of research. I recall watching the 1956 film “The Battle of the River Plate” and being entranced by the almost Ruritarian romanticism (as I saw it as an impressionable nine-year old) of the name of the British Minister in Montevideo-Sir Eugen Millington-Drake. My further interest in the Diplomatic Service originated from a Christmas present in 1959 of my first copy of “Whitaker’s Almanack”. I had been fascinated for some time by the names of, for example, Roman, Byzantine and Holy Roman Emperors and had been a compulsive ‘list-maker’ from a very early age. As a teenager I became increasingly fascinated by the identities of members the Diplomatic Service, senior officers in the Armed Forces and other public servants and in their career progression.

Over the succeeding decades, during my spare time from teaching History in Scottish secondary schools, I tried to compile and to update paper copies of lists of these individuals. With the coming of the internet and the decision to put these lists online the project has grown and developed. Not only did developments in technology afford the opportunity to more systematically revise and improve the lists it suggested the possibility that others interested in these matters would be able to access the material.

There is no shortage of sources for information on British Diplomatic representation overseas at the level of Heads of Mission. This project however goes beyond that level. It attempts to provide information on a wider range of positions within the Diplomatic Service, the Colonial Service and the India Office. As far as I am aware such an exercise has not been attempted before.

In recent months the welcome and invaluable co-operation and support of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in making copies of the Foreign Office and Diplomatic Service Lists available to me has ensured that the accuracy of the information provided has been much improved and has made it possible for me to extend the chronological coverage considerably.

The interest shown in this project by the Historians’ section of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and by members of the Foreign and Commonwealth Association has been most gratifying. The support and encouragement I have received from the historians and from a number of ex-diplomats has enabled me to make the material much more complete, more comprehensive and more accurate than would otherwise have been the case. In particular I would like to thank Mark Bertram, a former Head of the Overseas Estate Department at the FCO, without whose interest, help in facilitating access to the current FCO and encouragement the project would never have reached its current state.

This Directory cannot be fully comprehensive. A number of past and present organizations, departments and posts have been omitted. To those who may be aggrieved at particular omissions I can only offer my apologies.

It is hoped however that the project will provide a reference tool for those engaged in research or study of British Diplomatic and Colonial History and will be of interest to those who have served or serve in the Diplomatic Service.

It is obvious that I am an “outsider” attempting to chronicle the careers of senior diplomats and colonial officials. I am immensely proud that others are now of the opinion that this project is worthy of the official endorsement of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and worth preserving as a permanent record. It will, one day, become the responsibility of others to continue to update.

INTRODUCTION

SCOPE AND STRUCTURE

This Directory includes senior British diplomats, and other British civil servants working in a similar capacity, who held posts overseas and in London.

It is confined to individuals who worked at Counsellor/Assistant Secretary grades and above.

The main part of the Directory(Sections A-D) relates to the Diplomatic Service since 1789 and to the Foreign Office since 1841. The starting point of the year 1789 in both Sections A and B was chosen because of the use made of the volume published by the Royal Historical Society: “British Diplomatic Representatives 1789-1852”(Bindoff, Malcolm Smith and Webster, 1934). It includes those who served in the succession of Offices which were merged with the Foreign Office in the later part of the twentieth century(the Dominions Office 1925-47, the Commonwealth Relations Office 1947-66 and the Commonwealth Office 1966-1968) to become the Foreign and Commonwealth Office(FCO) in 1968.

Section A is an Alphabetical List of British Diplomats and their appointments from 1789 until the present. It includes all those individuals who held posts listed in Sections B, C and D but the appointments given for each individual are by necessity only those contained in the lists in subsequent sections.

Section B is an alphabetical list of countries in which diplomatic missions and subsidiary posts have been established, with successive holders of senior posts in each.

Section C records the changing structure in London of the Foreign Office between 1841 and 1968 and of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office since then, and lists the successive holders of the titles described. (This Directory, as far as I am aware, is the first to attempt such a summary.)

Section D is comparable to Section C, but deals solely with the Dominions Office, Commonwealth Relations Office and Commonwealth Office from their inception until their absorption by a successor Department.

The remainder of the Directory(Sections E-J) relate to the Colonial Office and the India Office. Section E is an alphabetical list of Colonial officials from 1850 until the date of a colony’s independence and of Colonial Office senior officials, with the posts held by each.

Section F is an alphabetical list of Colonies with lists of Governors and the Colonial or Chief Secretaries in each. Section G covers the structure of the Colonial Office since 1854 and lists its senior officials until its merger with the Commonwealth Relations Office in 1966.

Sections H, I and J relate to the India Office between 1858 and 1947 and provide coverage of both Indian Governors and the senior staff of the India Office in London.

SOURCES

A Select Bibliography is provided on page 8. Initially the principal source used was the annual Foreign Office List (from 1965 the Diplomatic Service List). However publication of this invaluable source ceased in 2006. In addition, latterly the annual editions only provided complete lists of the names of Ambassadors for the previous twenty years or so.

My access to these Lists (and to those of the Colonial Office, India Office and Commonwealth Relations Office-as the project expanded) was through very lengthy periods over many years spent working in the Reference Room of the Edinburgh Public Library. That library however does not hold copies of these lists from the earlier part of my chosen period. In the later stages of the exercise I had the advantage of being able to work at the Foreign and Commonwealth Office Library and at the National Archives at Kew and to make use of the Lists unavailable in Edinburgh.

DIPLOMATS AND HOME CIVIL SERVANTS

While the great majority of officials in this Directory would nowadays be called diplomats, thus justifying the title of this Directory, many of them were not defined as diplomats at the time of their service. The definition of a diplomat has widened significantly since the early twentieth century. Until 1919 a British diplomat was a member of the Diplomatic Service, which staffed missions overseas. It had been uncommon for such a diplomat to be employed within the Foreign Office in London although such employment had been increasing prior to the end of the First World War. When the Diplomatic Service and the Foreign Office were officially merged in 1919 all of the staff became members of the new Diplomatic Service. Foreign Office staff, in other words, became diplomats. Similarly, the Consular Service had been separate until it too was merged with the Diplomatic Service at the end of the Second World War. All former Commonwealth Relations Office and Colonial Office staff who joined the Foreign Office in the mid-1960s to create the Foreign and Commonwealth Office were transferred from the Home Civil Service to the Diplomatic Service, thereby becoming diplomats.

GENERAL NOTES

There are a few gaps in the lists of postholders overseas and in the succession of departments at home. Chief among the gaps are Colonial Office departments and postholders during the Second World War. The Colonial Office List was not published between 1941 and 1945 or in 1947. The cessation of publication of the Diplomatic Service List in 2006 has made it exceptionally difficult to identify a number of postholders beyond Heads of Missions overseas.

There will always be a certain amount of uncertainty regarding dates. It has not been possible for me to emulate the depth of research into each post carried out by Bindoff, Malcolm Smith and Webster or to consult the original documents and records available to them. The most common area of difficulty in relation to dates is that the individual's appointment to a particular post and the actual assumption of duties may have occurred in successive calendar years. Where possible I have used the dates given in the Foreign Office Lists but for other appointments, particularly in the 19th century, where use has been made of, for example, the London Gazette, the date of commencement is clearly that when the appointment was announced in London. There can also be discrepancies between the information provided, for example, in an official publication and the information included in an individual's entry in "Who's Who". Given that the latter represents the memory of an individual, which may demonstrably be fallible, such discrepancies have been resolved in favour of official publications where possible.

I have attempted to identify Acting appointments and to exclude those from the listings.

Throughout the entire project no attempt has been made to include those honours and decorations held by an individual at the time of his or her occupation of a specific post. For each person the "final" honours awarded are provided. Honours or decorations awarded to diplomats by foreign governments or by Commonwealth countries are not included

The research involved in compiling these lists has been of exceptional difficulty and there will without any doubt be some mistakes and inaccuracies, errors of transcription, typographical errors, errors transliterated from the sources themselves. I hope that users will not be slow to draw these to my attention. I can be contacted at britishdiplomatsdirectory@gulabin.com

The Directory will be updated at regular intervals and the FCO will arrange for the published version in their ISSUU series to be similarly updated.

NOTES: SECTIONS A AND B

Ambassadors are the Heads of Mission in foreign countries. Strictly speaking they are the representatives of the British Head of State in such countries.

Until the twentieth century however Ambassadors were appointed only to those countries deemed of most importance to Britain. In other countries with which Britain had diplomatic relations, the Mission was of a lesser status and was generally called a Legation, headed by a Minister. The term Minister Resident was used for the representative in certain countries in, for example, South and Central America and in the Balkans, which might have only recently become independent or were regarded as of lesser international status.

Post 1945 there was a steady increase in the number of Legations upgraded to Embassies and Legations died out altogether during the 1960s.

Changes in the status of representation for specific countries are noted in the listings.

In countries which are members of the Commonwealth the British Government is represented by a High Commissioner.

The title of Minister also began to be accorded towards the end of the nineteenth century to the effective “second-in-command” of the largest Embassies. The first such accreditation of a diplomat as Minister within a major Embassy seems to have been to Paris in the 1860s. This practice became more common during the twentieth century. After 1945 some major embassies would also have a Minister(Commercial) with appropriate responsibilities. The changing nature of British diplomatic relations with particular countries might lead to commensurate changes in the staffing of Missions. Such changes will be evident from the listings.

Missions were staffed, at the level below Ambassador or Minister, by Secretaries of Embassy or of Legation as appropriate. This title was replaced by the use of the word Counsellor from 1904. The lists contained in Section B therefore use the word “Counsellor” as a short-hand method of identifying such individuals. During the twentieth century the numbers of Counsellors in British missions multiplied, with Counsellors(Commercial) becoming relatively normal appointments in many countries and Counsellors with other designated responsibilities in the largest embassies.

I have included in these lists as far as possible those Counsellors who could be identified as the ‘senior’ Counsellors or the Counsellor(Political) within an Embassy or High Commission. In some cases these individuals held the additional post of Head of Chancery(although the Head of Chancery might equally be a First Secretary-the grade below that of Counsellor).

In more recent years the title of Deputy Head of Mission has apparently replaced that of Minister and has also encompassed the role previously taken by those Counsellors appointed to Embassies without a resident Minister.

I have also attempted to provide lists of the Commercial Counsellors in at least the major British diplomatic missions abroad.

In the interests of continuity I have included some Secretaries of Legation during the decade prior to the outbreak of the First World War who were ranked as First Secretaries rather than the higher grade of Counsellor.

At the Consular level Consuls-General have been appointed to major cities in overseas countries. I have attempted to provide lists of many of these appointments but it should be noted that there have been frequent changes in the designation of consular appointments in many such cities over the period covered by this Directory and in recent decades a number of Consuls-General posts have disappeared or downgraded to Consulates.

The practice in some Commonwealth countries was to appoint a British Deputy High Commissioner in certain major cities. This appointment should not be confused with the Deputy High Commissioner within the British High Commission itself located in the country's capital city. In Australia Deputy High Commissioners located in such cities have now been replaced by Consuls-General. This change has not, to date, been extended to India, Pakistan or Nigeria.

Where possible years of birth and of death are given but it has not always proved possible to determine such information.

As far as possible breaks in diplomatic relations with a country are noted and briefly explained. There were also occasions where, for particular reasons, British representation to a country might be downgraded, with the withdrawal of the Ambassador, Minister or High Commissioner but the retention of representation through a Charge d'Affaires. These too are noted where possible.

In the Alphabetical Sections (A, E and H) persons appointed to be Heads of Mission or to Governorships who were not professional diplomats or civil servants are included but only those posts are listed and no attempt has been made to give a list of their other various appointments. In a few cases however an appointment within, for example, the Cabinet Office might have been if it had some responsibility for foreign policy.

Note:

The Head of the Far East Department of the Foreign Office and the Counsellor at the Legation in China exchanged posts on a number of occasions immediately before and during the First World War. Sir Beilby Alston, the Head of the Far East Department, acted as Counsellor in Peking from January to July 1912, between May 1913 and November 1913 and from June 1916. During his absence from London the Counsellor in Peking, Sir William Max Muller acted as Head of the Far East Department from September 1911 until September 1912. In September 1916 Sir Ronald Macleay was transferred to London, initially as Deputy Controller of the Foreign Trade Department and from 1917 as Head of the Far East Department during Alston's absence in China. Alston remained in the Far East, transferring from Peking to Vladivostock in 1918 and to Tokyo in 1919.

Notes: Sections C-D

Within the Foreign Office, the Dominions Office and their successor Offices senior gradings remained relatively unchanged until the last decade of the twentieth century; the Permanent Under-Secretary, Deputy Under-Secretaries and Assistant Under-Secretaries.

Deputy Under-Secretaries and Assistant Under-Secretaries. The first Assistant Under-Secretary appointed on a permanent basis in the Foreign Office was James Murray in 1858; the first Deputy Under-Secretary Sir Victor Wellesley in 1925. It has been particularly difficult to identify specific departmental/geographical responsibilities of the holders of these posts prior to the Second World War. Far fewer officials at those grades existed before 1939 and their responsibilities were therefore usually much wider in scope than latterly. In addition the responsibilities assigned to a particular senior official were subject to alteration and variation. I have listed Deputy and Assistant Under-Secretaries up to 1945 whilst attempting to indicate areas of specific responsibility where possible. The posts of Deputy Under-Secretary and of Assistant Under-Secretary have now been retitled as Director-General and Director respectively.

Foreign Office Heads of Department. Until 1919 heads of department within the Foreign Office were Senior Clerks. In some cases, prior to World War One, Departments were headed for a period of time by an official with the rank of Acting Senior Clerk.

After the merger of the Foreign Office and the Diplomatic Service heads of department were briefly given the grade of Assistant Secretary but then were given the rank of Counsellor. Heads of Departments within the Dominions Office and its successors were Assistant Secretaries, in line with practice in the Home Civil Service.

I have included many-but not all-of the departmental heads within the Foreign Office up to 1965 and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office thereafter. In general Departments are arranged by date of establishment within the broad groupings used in, for example, the Plowden Report of 1964. The exception is the arrangement of Departments dealing with Geographical areas of responsibility which are grouped together by continent to provide a more logical overview.

Over the past ten to fifteen years there have been a very considerable number of changes within the FCO to the names and functions of most departments reflecting changes in the international situation and in management practice. In some cases departments were initially established as Units and subsequently renamed. The bewildering nature and rapidity of these changes have created a severe challenge to the chronological tracing of responsibilities attempted in this Directory. It must be noted therefore that coverage of the departmental structure of the FCO since 2006 is at best patchy.

SECTION D: THE DOMINIONS/COMMONWEALTH RELATIONS/COMMONWEALTH OFFICE

NOTE:

Between 1963 and 1968 the responsibilities of the Deputy and Assistant Under-Secretaries at the Commonwealth Relations Office (Commonwealth Office from 1966) changed regularly. These changes were the consequence of the rapidly evolving nature of the Commonwealth as more of Britain's former colonies were granted independence, of the increasing importance given to economic development and aid and of the merger of the Colonial Office with the Commonwealth Relations Office in 1966. In addition, the Dominions Office and Colonial Office List (1925-1947) is silent on the specific departmental responsibilities of the Assistant Secretaries serving in the Dominions Office. It is extremely difficult therefore to produce any form of meaningful and consistent list of postholders with areas of responsibility. These lists therefore should be treated with considerable caution during this period and cannot claim to be definitive.

Permanent Under-Secretary, Commonwealth Relations Office (until 1966;

NOTE: SECTIONS E-F

The sections of the Directory dealing with the British colonies include information on both Colonial Governors and on Colonial and Chief Secretaries.

Colonial Secretaries should not be confused with the Secretary of State for the Colonies-the political head of the Colonial Office. The Colonial Secretary of a colony was the chief administrative officer to the Governor and would serve as Acting Governor in the absence on leave of the Governor or during the interim between the departure of a Governor and the arrival of his successor. In some Colonies however-in Africa in particular-this official had the title of Chief Secretary. In colonies which became internally self-governing the post of Colonial Secretary was renamed Chief Secretary. In the years immediately before the granting of independence to a colony the post was often renamed again as Lieutenant-Governor.

The office of Lieutenant-Governor was, however, used throughout the period of this Directory in Malta and, at various times in Ceylon and the Straits Settlements. It was also used in a number of colonies before the office was raised to Governor status.

I believe that this is the first time that an attempt has been made to list all Colonial Secretaries.

Although in the interests of continuity the Governors-General of the Dominions: Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa have been listed these individuals have not been included in Section E.

I am aware that Colonial officials were not Diplomats and that to include them in “A Directory of British Diplomats” may be seen as inappropriate. It was convenient for me to collect the fruits of my research into one consolidated document and publish it as such. I can only apologise to those who worked in the British Colonies and who might well feel aggrieved by my decision.

SECTION E: ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORY OF COLONIAL OFFICIALS

NOTE: This list excludes those Governors of Bermuda, Gibraltar and Malta and High Commissioners in Palestine and Transjordan which were military appointments of senior serving or recently retired officers and those Governors of Australian States who were Australian citizens. Senior diplomatic posts held by individuals are included in this section.

SECTION G: THE COLONIAL OFFICE, 1862-1966

NOTE:

The Colonial Office List (Dominions and Colonial Office List from 1925 to 1947) is an immensely valuable resource. There are however two particular problems which have made my research difficult. Unlike the Foreign Office List, the Colonial Office List's biographical section gives no indication of the departmental responsibilities of the Senior Clerks/Assistant Secretaries. These responsibilities can be identified from the information contained in the Lists in a given year but the exact dates when an individual took up or left the post within the Colonial Office is not clear. In addition, the Colonial Office List was not published between 1941 and 1945 or in 1947. This has made it almost impossible to identify Heads of Department during the Second World War.
