U.S. Department of Labor
Office of Labor-Management Standards
Employers Found to Have Interfered with Employee Rights

This list consists of employers who have been found to have committed an Unfair Labor Practice (ULP), and who may therefore be required under the law to file a Form LM-10 (Employer Report). Records will be retained on this website for one year. The current list covers the period from July 1, 2023 through June 30, 2024.

Under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act (LMRDA), an employer must report on Form LM-10 any expenditure where an object thereof, directly or indirectly, is to interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing. Such interference, restraint, and coercion constitute a ULP under the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA). The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is an independent federal agency enforcing the NLRA, which guarantees the right of most private sector employees to organize, to engage in group efforts to improve their wages and working conditions, to determine whether to have unions as their bargaining representative, to engage in collective bargaining, and to refrain from any of these activities. The NLRB acts to prevent and remedy ULPs committed by private sector employers and unions. The NLRB has determined the following employers have committed a ULP. You can click the link to read the decision. If you would like to see if your employer has filed a Form LM-10 reporting expenditures made related to the ULP, visit the Online Public Disclosure Room.
